Cape Town, South Africa

INVITATION TO EXHIBIT AT GROUP ON EARTH OBSERVATIONS WEEK

The 2023 Group on Earth Observations (GEO) Week and Ministerial Summit will take place at the Cape Town International Convention Centre, South Africa, from 6 to 10 November 2023. Hosted by GEO and the South African Department of Science and Innovation, the event will play an important role in addressing the global problems of climate change, biodiversity loss and pollution.

Under the theme “The Earth Talks”, the GEO Week and Ministerial Summit will promote action through open Earth observation solutions. Earth observations hold the key to addressing urgent global challenges and driving sustainable development.

The gathering will bring together representatives of government, the private sector and civil society to network and witness technological demonstrations. Industry experts in Earth observations, satellite applications, land and natural resource management, disaster management and response, urban planning, surveying and mapping will be present.

The event offers a unique opportunity to showcase your organisation and share your research and innovative solutions with the international GEO community.

The exhibition hall, conveniently located near the plenary venue, will be the central hub for engagement. Tea, coffee and lunches will be served daily, ensuring a steady flow of visitors.

Join us in Cape Town and become an integral part of the conversation as we listen to the Earth and take collective action for a better future.
