Comment [RJ1]: Note for Sessions 2, 3 and 4.

A key piece of feedback from previous meetings has been to balance the use of panel sessions with allocation of time for interaction and deliberation. Fortunately, the Kyoto Plenary included a series of panel sessions that elegantly framed the views of the GEO community on the challenges and opportunities for progress on the key priority areas: Sendai, Paris and the SDGs.

This draft agenda leverage off these outcomes, and on the work of the Programme Board, to guide the three sessions proposed for these topics. A methodology that balances maximising time for discussion, debate and decision making with the need to ensure the discussion is put in context is proposed.

09:00 – 11:00	Session 5: Broadening the Impact of Earth Observations and GEO	Note: inclusion of this item is subject to a review of progress at the July Executive Committee meeting.
5.0	Review of Day One	Chair will remind attendees of the significant progress of the day before, and the implications it has for the topics of Day 2.
5.1	Introduction to Session Session Objective: Plenary determines how GEO will accelerate its impact through enhancement of key relationships and implementation of targeted strategies.	Context: GEO is delivering a wide range of pilot and prototype activities, and now needs to employ strategies to ensure the impact of this important technical work is delivered as broadly as possible. Achieving this will require creating new pathways for the work of GEO to reach end users. Each of the four sub-topics will address one of these pathways: connecting the work of GEO to the broader multilateral economic cooperation architecture, harnessing the power of Regional GEOs to ensure more nations benefit from GEO's work, engaging those who work at local levels to tailor solutions to local needs, and tapping in to key communities who can integrate EO into the products and services they develop for end users.
5.2	[Global] Economic Impact Topic Objective: Agree on how GEO should approach formalizing and structuring its engagement with key multilateral economic cooperation fora (G20, G7/8, ASEAN, APEC, etc.).	A designated Principal will provide an opening intervention that highlights an example of successful linkages between GEO and a multilateral economic cooperation fora, talk about what made it a win-win, and highlight lessons learnt. Delegations will then discuss and debate the options proposed in the Discussion Paper.
5.3	Regional Impact Topic Objective: Agree on actions GEO should take to better exploit the downscaling role of Regional GEOs, and their ability to connect GEO to additional countries and communities.	Highlight the value of Regional GEOs and discuss the next steps, with a particular emphasis on how the Regional GEOs will reach out to the least developed economies in their caucus. A designated Principal will provide an opening intervention that highlights an example of where a GEO activity has been tailored to meet the needs of a region, engaging countries in that region who don't otherwise engage with GEO. Highlight lessons learnt that might apply to other activities and other Regional GEOs. Delegations will then discuss and debate the options proposed in the Discussion Paper.
5.4	Local Impact Topic Objective: Agree on actions GEO should take to better enable delivery of impact at a local scale, in particular actions that draw on expert advice and feedback from the development experts and commercial sector actors most skilled at deploying solutions at this scale.	A designated Principal will provide an opening intervention that highlights an example of where GEO outputs have been taken and tailored to meet local needs, and lessons learnt from the process. Delegations will then discuss and debate the options proposed in the Discussion Paper. Topics will include how GEO can highlight the role of the commercial sector in developing solutions to meet local needs, what GEO can do

Engaging and Enabling Communities

Topic Objective: Agree on actions GEO should take to better leverage the power of key ‘enabling communities’, those communities who can bridge the EO community with end-user communities who typically need products and services of which EO data is only one part.

to address barriers to greater commercial sector involvement, modalities for linking GEO’s efforts to national and multilateral development programs, and the need to recognize the critical role of in-situ data in delivery of solutions that meet local needs.

A designated Principal will provide an opening intervention that highlights an example of the successful linking of GEO and an ‘enabling community’, including lessons learnt on topics such as bridging the “language” gap between different technical communities

Delegations will then discuss and debate the options proposed in the Discussion Paper.

Priority enabling communities for discussion:

- The ‘tech’ and ‘apps’ communities
- The economics community and finance industries
- Official Statistics community (incl. big data for official statistics)
- Ecosystem Accounting

Session 5 Information documents:

GEO-XVI-5 Discussion Paper on Broadening the Impact of Earth Observation and GEO

The GEO Secretariat will prepare a paper that summarises how effectively GEO is achieving impact through each of the four key pathways to be discussed. The paper will pose options for broadening and deepening GEO’s impact in each area, for consideration by Principals.

11:00 – 11:30 Coffee

11:30 – 12:30 Session 6: Implementing a Results-Oriented GEOSS

Note: inclusion of this session is subject to GEO Secretariat development of a proposal that is satisfactory to the GEO Executive Committee.

6.1

Introduction of proposed strategy to implement Results-Oriented GEOSS

Session Objective: Plenary determines the scale and nature of GEO’s future strategy to implement a Results-Oriented Global Earth Observation System of Systems.

A truly results-oriented GEOSS will better position GEO to deliver solutions that address sustainable development, climate and disaster risk reduction challenges.

A results-oriented GEOSS will transform the way GEO works and ensure the benefits of Earth observation data and technology reach developing countries.

The Secretariat Director, supported by a panel of key Expert Advisory Group members, will introduce the proposed strategy and describe it in detail, including responding to any requests for clarification from delegations.

Session supported by a detailed proposal that describes the anticipated benefits to GEO, and includes an implementation plan and description of required resources. The linkages
