

Intro and Background
13:30 – 13:35	Welcome	John Matuszak	US Department of State
13:35 – 13:45	Introducing the EO4EA Initiative: What is ecosystem account and why earth observation? Review objectives, structure, and desired outcomes of the initiative	Max Wright	EO4EA Secretariat / Conservation International
13:45 – 14:00	Background on NCA and Ecosystem Accounting: Why is ecosystem accounting critical to sustainable development?	Daniel Juhn	EO4EA Secretariat / Conservation International
Key Reports Synthesizing the contribution of Earth Observation to Accounting and Statistics
14:00 – 14:10	Opportunities for using EO Data for the Integrated System for Natural Capital and Ecosystem Services Accounting (INCA) (report from the European Environment Agency and the WCMC)	Max Wright (CI), on behalf of European Environment Agency and WCMC	On behalf of European Environment Agency / World Conservation Monitoring Centre
14:10 – 14:20	Earth Observation for Official Statistics (report from the governments of Mexico, Canada, etc.)	Paloma Merodio	INEGI
Case Studies
14:20 – 14:35	Ecosystem Accounting in Mexico	Paloma Merodio	INEGI
14:35 – 14:50	A New Map of Global Islands for Island Ecosystem Extent Accounting	Roger Sayre	USGS
14:50 – 15:05	Ongoing US efforts in Ecosystem Accounting	John Matuszak	US Department of State
Discussion
15:05 – 15:30	PANEL DISCUSSION /OPEN FLOOR FOR QUESTION OR COMMENTS	ALL	